Nineteen-Hundred And Sixty One

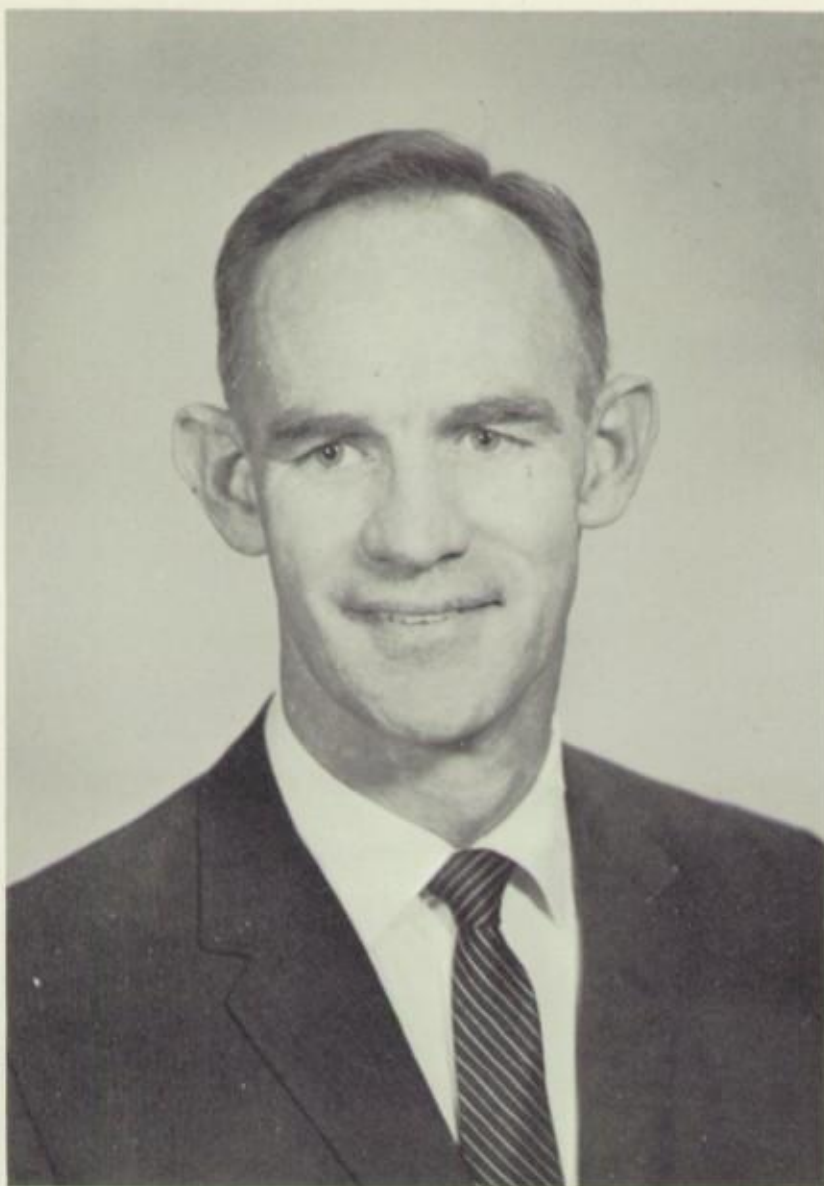

Dedication

To a man whose sense of humor brightens our days, whose witty sayings cheer us, we pay tribute. During the short time we have known him we have learned to love and appreciate the many things he has done for our school. We take great pleasure in dedicating the 1961 DUKE to everyone's friend.

Class History

Now that we are Seniors it is hard to believe that almost twelve years ago we were just beginning in the first grade. Part of us started here at Windsor but some went to Isle of Wight and others to Carrsville.

We could not help but feel important because we were, at last, old enough to go to school. Our crayon pictures and the way we learned to read about "Dick and Jane" made us feel proud. And how can we forget our first Think and Do work-books?

We gained in many ways. Our new knowledge ranged from printing our names to learning to tie our own shoes.

Yes, the first grade was an important year. We all hold a special place in our hearts for our first teacher who taught us so much, whether she be Mrs. Jenkins, Miss Blanche, or Mrs. Carter.

With the coming of the second and third grades, we learned how to spell, add, subtract, and more about reading. We also learned our ABC's and how to count to a hundred.

Remember the marble games, the yo-yo craze, and our first attempt at softball? We also had a lot of fun playing cowboys and Indians with our classmates and working together in the classrooms. Most of us made special "pals" or friends with whom we did everything together.

In the third grade David Whitley joined the Carrsville class and Tony Barrett moved to Texas.

In the fourth grade Ray Thomas came to Carrsville School. Maurice Rhodes transferred from Carrsville and registered at Windsor with Jimmy Woodward, from Suffolk.

Kay Munford, also from Suffolk, registered at Windsor in the fifth grade, and the same year Mack Umphlett from Whaleyville entered Carrsville.

As the grammar grade years rolled along, many of our friends dropped along the wayside, but the majority journeyed ahead.

When we got our certificates at the end of the seventh grade we really thought we were grown-up. We would no longer be considered kids, but high-school students.

The eighth grade passed by leaving fond memories of Junior Varsity basketball games and our first real dances.

September, 1957, students from Windsor, Isle of Wight, and Carrsville came together for the first time. It was fun seeing so many new faces and making new friends.

We spent some happy days as Freshmen. We had a wonderful time, especially, on our class hayride to Ocean View in the spring.

In the tenth grade we had some new comers. We were happy to welcome back Tony Barrett. Another, Jack Gibbs, from Minnesota, entered our class in the middle of the year.

Almost every organization, team, etc., had a representative from our class in the tenth grade.

Memorable events were our Christmas Party, and our trip to Ocean View again.

The year 59-60 was truly the most eventful year. We were Juniors!

Can we ever forget the excitement of ordering our class rings and our joy when they finally came? And then there was the Junior Newspaper and the Junior Play. We really enjoyed those play practices with Mrs. Powell and Mrs. Holland. The Play, "A Pair of Country Kids" was a success. No one noticed the left-out lines or the "ad-libbing!"

One of the biggest thrills of the eleventh grade was our Jr.-Sr. Prom. There was a lot of hard work involved in making the plans but it was worth every minute of it.

Prom night was the highlight of the whole year. Our theme was "Sayonara." We thought it was the prettiest Jr.-Sr. ever.

The last we were together as the Junior Class was on our memorable hay-ride to Virginia Beach in June.

And now, we are Seniors. Some of us have taken tests in preparation for entrance to colleges of our choice. Some of us are planning to work, or go to a business school, and some will get married or go into the Service.

As we prepare for our future, a lot of us bear in mind an impressive poem which Mrs. Hall gave to us:

Life

I bargained with Life for a penny,
And Life would give no more,
Howe'er I begged at evening
As I counted my scanty score.

For Life is a just employer.
He gives you what you ask.
But once you have set the wages,
Why, you must bear the task.

I worked for a menial's hire,
Only to learn, dismayed,
That any wage I had asked of Life,
Life would have paid.

Rittenhouse

Our class has come a long way together. We have shared disappointments, happiness, anxieties. We have been a very close class, a lot closer than many. It is sad to think that we are nearing the end of our happy high-school days and approaching crossroads where each shall take a different path. Though we have to part, we shall never forget the fruitful, joyful days we have spent in school and the friends we have made.

Patsy Rainey

Last Will And Testament

Carolyn Wilkins leaves her job as Editor of the annual to Mary Lou Gibbs in the hope that she will enjoy it as much as she did.

Jimmy Woodward leaves to Frankie Brown his Senior Superlative "Biggest Flirt" and hopes Barbara doesn't catch him.

Bobby Duck leaves to James Bland his Senior Superlative "The Wittiest" sincerely believing he will live up to it. Good luck!!

Linwood Duck leaves to Glenn Robertson his waistline, knowing that in the near future he will be able to fill it.

Joe Griffin leaves to Roger Lee Butler his ability to drive in ditches fully believing he will not have as much trouble with them as he did.

Cecil Rhodes leaves to Robert Johnson his ability to accidentally break seats on the bus.

Freddie Griffin and Jimmy Babb leave to George Robert Pulley and Scotty Stephenson their drag racing ability.

Larry Whitley leaves to Jimmy Whitley his car's safety belts knowing that he will never need them.

Patsy Rainey leaves to Ann Cooke Cutchins her seat on Bus 35 and the memory of fans, flyswaters, and cushions.

Goode Joyner leaves to Johnny Bishop his base stealing ability and hopes he will put it to good use.

Mary Ann Howard leaves to Mary Katherine Ballard her ability to continue her witty, yet serious way for her Senior year, in the hope her wit is used wisely.

Diane Keifer and Ida Edwards leave their friendship to Judy Simmons and Glenda Bracey knowing they will never lose it.

Katie Kee Kello leaves her Senior Superlative "Most Talkative" to Jackie Redd fully believing she will catch up with her.

Dianne Foster leaves her mischievous way to Gloria Howell in the hope that she can live up to her standards.

Emogene Garris leaves to Billy Wolfe a cold night's ride in his little convertible in hopes that he will know better next time.

Mary Beth Chapman leaves to Willie Wayne Chapman her desk in 12A and her ability to be quiet and behave herself.

Barbara Tomlin leaves her wish that a year ago she could have traded places with Patricia Duck so she could have gone to Holland and Pat could have come to Windsor.

Nancy Stephens leaves to Gwen Rhodes the Whaleyville boys with the sincere hope that Gwen will have as much fun as she did.

Evelyn Uzzell leaves to Connie Spivey her carefree ways and hopes that she will have lots of fun before settling down.

Velna Glover leaves to Jean Blythe her ability to go with boys who drive convertibles, especially Fords and Pontiacs.

Kay Munford leaves to Becky Umphlett her Senior Superlative "Most Studious" in hopes she can live up to it.

Nancy Eley leaves to Peggy Johnson and Jean Vaughan her seat in the chapel choir and her best wishes for a successful year.

Jack Gibbs leaves to Rodger Plaster his Senior Superlative for truly there is none more dignified than he.

Barbara Jean Pierce leaves to Virginia Everett her books knowing she will get as much fun and enjoyment from them as she did in the past year.

Kay Parrish leaves to Peggy Daughtrey her Senior Superlative "The Quietest" in hopes that she will catch up with her.

David Whitley leaves to Fred Underwood his position on the basketball team in hopes he can improve it.

Shirley Godwin leaves to Dell Holland the fun she had in biology class dissecting a frog.

Leland Duck leaves to Lloyd Duck his ability to drive slowly on the school grounds.

Judy Spivey leaves to Betty Stephenson her slim trim figure.

Emuel Ballard leaves to Bing Olson his ability to get the car three nights a week and hopes some day he may do the same.

Bobby Young leaves to Eddie Powell his interest in sports.

Nancy Carr leaves to Carol Adams her seat in the typing room hoping that next year her typewriter will not make as many mistakes as it did this year.

Mack Umphlett leaves to Robert Allan Holland his comb.

Maurice Rhodes leaves to Bobby "Shorty" Story his height in the hope he will someday be able to see over the steering wheel.

Van Hand leaves to Roland Griggs his quiet easy going way.

Joyce Britt leaves to Herbert Britt her diploma in the hope he will claim one next year.

Steve Doles leaves to Lillie Belle Mumford and Betty Jane Gardner his artistic ability.

Macon Edwards leaves to Faye Arrington and Polly Hedgepeth his diet secret hoping they will someday follow it.

Ray Thomas leaves to Shirley Jones his blond streak in the hopes it will be the style next year.

Carroll Ray Turner leaves to Frank Carr his ability to skim through Government class in the hope he will pass next year.

Richard Byrum leaves to Herbert Booth his Agriculture record book in the hope he will complete it.

Fuzzy Jones leaves to Nancy Beale his ability to make friends with the opposite sex.

J. R. Williams leaves to Joey Brinkley his ability to drive the school bus and satisfy the pupils as he did.

Larry Francis and Tony Barrett leave to Linda Blythe, Audrey Howell and Barbara Walthall the No. 35 in hopes they have as much fun with it as they did, also Elmer, the little man who wasn't there in hopes they can do more with him than they did.

Gerry Ballard leaves to Sylvia Francis and Carolyn Hunnings her ability to be patient until the right boy comes along.

Pat Garrison leaves to Ikie Steele and Nancy Grissom her second year French book in the hopes they can use it.

Nannie Brock leaves to Jo Ann Byrum her handwriting ability.

David Blythe just leaves and he is mighty glad to do it!!

Class Prophecy

Looking into the mirror I saw a reflection of myself as I had appeared in my high school days. The only physical changes in me were that I had finally gained the ten pounds I had been striving for since I was a Junior in high school, and I had fulfilled my greatest desire to have long hair.

As I saw my reflection in the mirror I began to see other faces, also. They were the faces of my fifty classmates at Windsor High School. Tears welled in my eyes as I saw those old familiar faces and thought of the days when we were Seniors. Everything around me became a blur and the faces in the mirror began fading away.

"Wait", I cried, "don't leave now! We have so much to talk over".

"Mirror, mirror, on the wall,
Bring them back, bring them all!"

When the face of one of my classmates then appeared, I knew that the mirror was acting as a camera so that for awhile I might look into the life of each of my old friends.

As I looked into the mirror the first person I saw was Linwood Duck. Linwood had just gotten back from Russia, where he had attended a university, and was now Master of Ceremonies of a debating series on television.

Next, I came upon Tony Barrett. It looks as if Tony has lived up to his Senior Superlative as being "Class Model" because now he is serving as the assistant to the Governor of Virginia. Not to mention the fact, that Tony's secretary is good, old, dependable Kay Munford.

I see that Patsy Rainey is now one of the leading Interior Decorators of the country. Recently she was called on to help in the plans for the new home of Dr. & Mrs. Jack Gibbs.

Larry Francis was recently elected as Treasurer of Isle of Wight County, and Mack Umphlett was chosen as "State Trooper for the Year 1967".

Are my eyes playing a trick on me or is what I see real? Yes, it looks as if Judy Spivey and Maurice Rhodes, now Mr. & Mrs. Maurice Arnold Rhodes, have just had another addition to their red-headed family. Judy and Maurice Jr. seem to be doing fine, and, under the special care of nurses Diane Foster and Emogene Garriss, they should be able to go home in a few days.

When I looked into the mirror for the next person, I only caught a glimpse of her because she was in such a hurry. I knew it had to be Diane Keifer, though. I had heard that Diane had finally graduated from class rings to engagement rings. She had just received her fourth diamond and was hurrying down to the Tastee-Freeze at Windsor to tell Katie Kello all about it. Meanwhile, Katie is still waiting for the right one to come along.

"Mirror, mirror, on the wall, tell me;
Are David Blythe and Nancy Eley still the fairest of them all?"

Yes, I see that they are. They certainly lived up to their Senior Superlative as being the "Best Looking", didn't they? I see that David gave up his job at the A & P and turned to the business world. That extra hard work he did in his Senior year proved a big help, and David graduated from East Carolina "Magna Cum Laude."

"Excuse me, mirror, but your telephone is ringing. Oh, you want me to answer it? Very well."

"Hello. Yes, this is she. Well, hello, Joyce. ---- Really? No, I had not heard. Why, I shall be glad to attend. Thank you ever so much for calling, and I will see you Wednesday night. Goodbye."

That just happened to be another one of my classmates--Joyce Britt. Joyce is working as a telephone operator in Franklin, and she just called to tell me that "Larry Whitley and Combo" are going to play at a dance to be held Wednesday night at the Shrine Club in Suffolk. Larry is really climbing to the top in the entertainment world. I hear, too, that Shirley Godwin is playing in his band as well as being his leading Vocalist.

I wonder how many of my old classmates will be at the dance? Let me think---. Now, I know for sure that Nancy Stephens will be there. She wouldn't miss a chance like that because there is bound to be some eligible bachelors in the crowd, somewhere. Nancy has keen senses when it comes to hunting eligible young men. She can really do a wonderful job of capturing her victims, too. I wonder what her secret is?

I know we can count on Tony Barrett and Jack Gibbs to be there. Those cats are still swinging. By the time they start calming down a little, it will probably be just about time for them to start in their second childhood.

I don't believe Tony will be able to do too much dancing, though. He is playing a little Pro Football now and, in his last game, he fractured his leg rather badly. He was taken to the hospital for X-rays, and Nancy Eley, who is now a Medical Technologist at Norfolk General Hospital, reported that it was pretty bad but that it would heal rather quickly if he stayed in the hospital. He was just released last week and so he is still a little sore.

I wonder if Mary Beth Chapman and Barbara Jean Pierce will be there? I would love to see those girls again. It has been a long time--- but, of course, they are both married now and have families of their own to stay home and take care of.

"Mirror, mirror, on the wall, tell me ---
Where is Evelyn Uzzell, the shortest one of all?"

In Europe? My, she must have married a rich man. Oh, you say that his uncle is paying for their trip. I see---. His Uncle who? His Uncle Sam? Oh, now I recall. Evelyn said that the boy she was going to marry was going to make a career of the Navy. And now you say he is an Admiral? Isn't that nice.

Don't tell me that that is Van Hand giving orders to those men! I see that he is in the Coast Guard and really doing some traveling. I believe his Senior year was a big step toward his future.

The faces of Steve Doles and Macon Edwards appeared before me next. They are still the very best of friends; when you see one, you are bound to see the other. Steve is now majoring in his favorite topic, "Civil War History". He has even written a few articles on the Civil War that have been published in the newspaper. Macon has majored in business so he could help Steve get along in the affairs of the business world.

The Senior Class of 1961 really turned out a fine group of farmers. Among these we find Jimmy Babb, Richard Byrum, Leland Duck, Cecil Rhodes, and James Jones, better known as Fuzzy.

I declare, if that isn't Velna Glover driving another new Pontiac convertible. Velna and Barbara Tomlin are both married now and living in Holland. I guess Barbara's husband will have to buy himself a car to match that one now. Those two girls still have the same taste as far as new Pontiac convertibles go.

I see that Mary Ann Howard has done well for herself in the past few years. She is married now and owns a half interest in Beale's Grocery in Burdette.

"Mirror, mirror, on the wall,
Where is Carolyn Wilkins--The Editor of the 1961 Duke?"

Carolyn did a fine job in editing our annual and it looks as if now she is doing just as fine a job in running the affairs of her home in Petersburg. She is a private secretary to a law firm in Petersburg and a very good one, so I have heard.

Carroll Ray Turner, Goode Joyner, and Bobby Ray Duck are all working at the Newport News Shipyard; while we find David Whitley working at Union-Bag Camp in Franklin. Nancy Carr and Nancy Stephens are working at U-B Camp, also, as secretaries.

Ida Edwards is working in Suffolk doing secretarial work, Nannie Brock and Kay Parrish are nurses at Franklin's new hospital, and Jack Gibbs has established his office there performing brain surgery.

Bobby Young and Joe Griffin are specialist electricians, now; while we find that Emuel Ballard had gone into the field of automotive engineering. Jimmy Woodward, a graduate of V.P.I. has also gone into the field of engineering.

We find J. R. Williams married and living in Chuckatuck. He is now doing public work.

Appearing before me next in the mirror was a picture of dear old Windsor High. Only it is just a picture because Windsor now has a fine, new school building. However, the old W.H.S. took with it days of fond memories and good times.

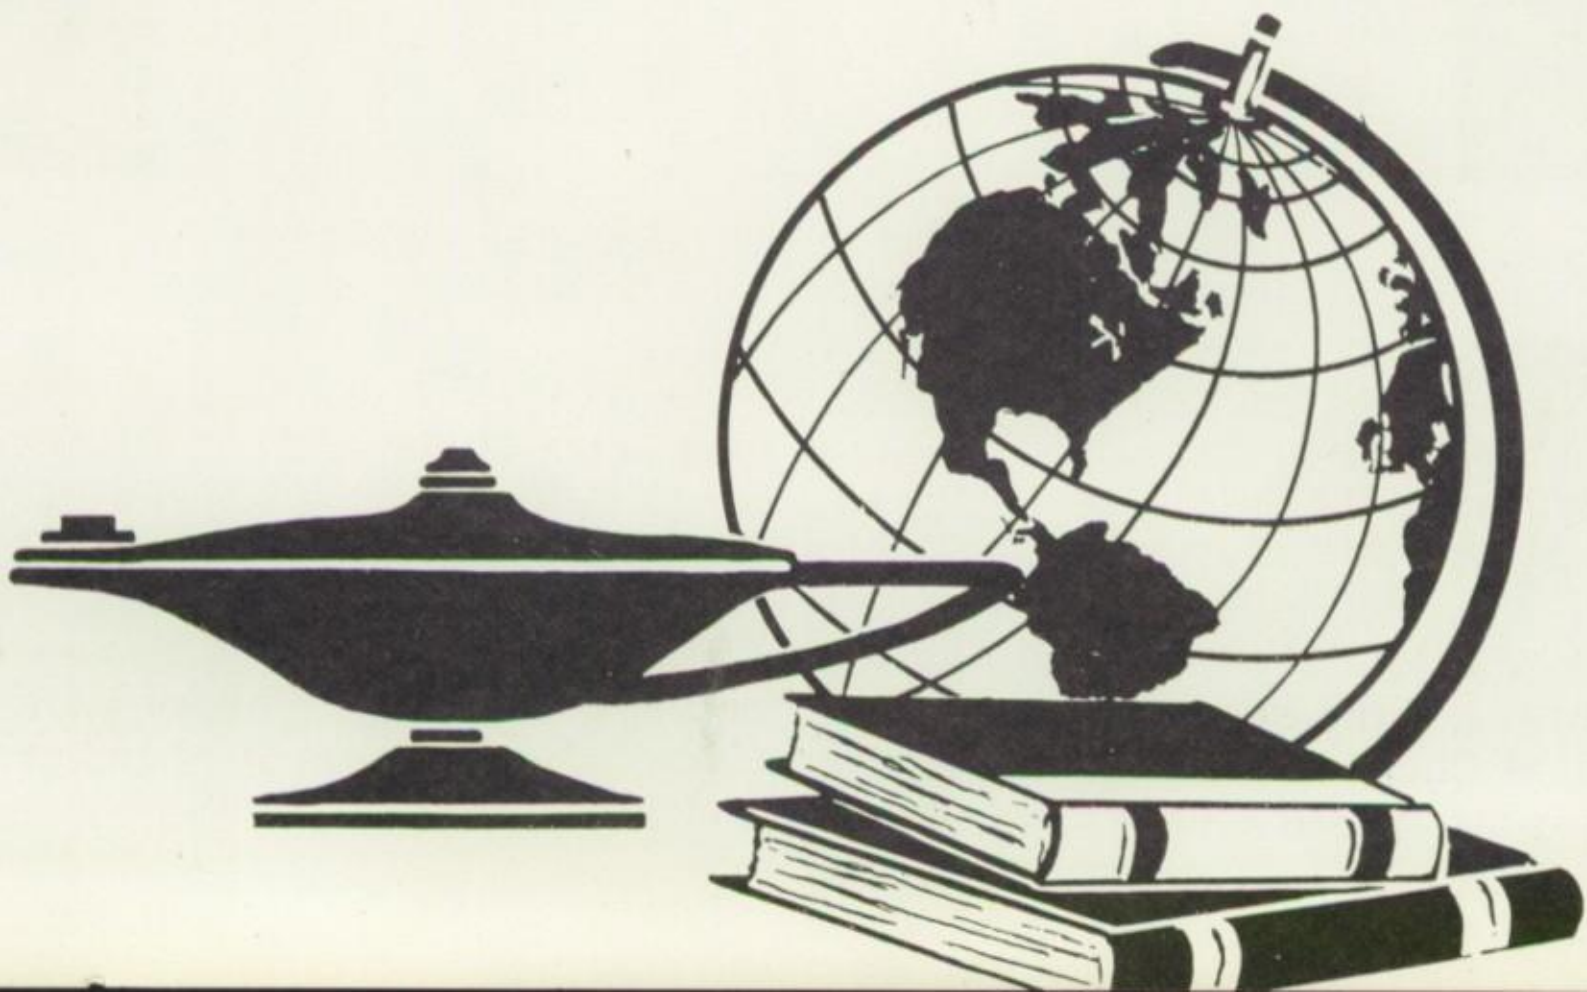

The new school building is a welcome sight at Windsor; and, yet, within its very walls we find many treasures and characteristics of our old "Alma Mater". Mrs. Raveling and Mrs. Keeling, our Senior Sponsors, are still teaching and remain as the Senior Sponsors. They are a symbol of many Seniors, who have graduated from Windsor High School. They can never be repaid enough for their help and kindness to each Senior and to each Senior class that they have ever taught.

Of course, along with the new building, we find new faces and new teachers. In the grammar grades we find Pat Garrison as the second grade teacher.

Oh, my goodness! What was that loud noise? It even cracked the mirror. I bet it is Ray Thomas--up to his old tricks again. Ray is in the Air Force and it seems that every time he is sent up this way on a mission, he tries his best to break the sound barrier. That is his way of letting everyone know that he was passing by.

Well, I certainly hope he is satisfied! My mirror is broken, and everything in it is becoming a blur. I did so want to visit a while longer with my old classmates but now I can't. However, at least I got a chance to see everyone for a while.

Alma Mater

Hail to thee, dear Windsor High School,
Standing strong and true,
In our lives a place of honor
We have formed for you.
All the days of work and pleasure,
E'er a memory,
We would ever love and cherish
All our thoughts of Thee.

CHORUS:

Hail to thee our Alma Mater,
Conquer and prevail,
Hail! Oh, Hail to thee, Dear Windsor
You we'll never fail.

Twelve years are now past and we have completed our study at Dear Old Windsor High. As we walk forth from its doors into the world to face the future, we can truthfully say we love the old place and will ever cherish it in our hearts. We would like to give a word of thanks to each teacher who helped us on our way up to the climax and especially to those who helped make this, THE 1961 DUKE possible.
